Engage with the theory and practice of supervision

This course is designed to form participants in the art and practice of supervision. It is for those who want to:

- Supervise others in their ministry field or within formation programs.
- Refresh and expand existing supervision skills
- Gain more from their own supervision experience.

Sue Dunbar and Liz Anne Smith will share their wisdom and experience, accompanying participants as they explore and deepen their own practice of supervision, including using models developed by Lucy Abbott-Tucker and others.

Participants will receive a certificate upon successful completion of the course.
